Dedication

The members of the Senior Class of 1951 dedicate our annual to Mr. A. L. Hendren for his patience, genial attitude, foresight, and ability to lead many through fields of achievement.

Our loyalty and love we leave behind,

For later years many others to find.

We hope our many ways will remain

And help you others as a gain.

No other class has had such fun,

As we have had since school begun.

When we are gone we'll always treasure

The memories of you with such a pleasure

Now the years have swiftly passed

It's time to say farewell at last

Our years with you were well worth while

And so we leave with a great big smile.

Christeen Dickerson.

Grit always Wins - remember - Ed
My contacts with you have indeed been a pleasure.

SENIOR HISTORY

In September of 1947, we that are now the Senior Class, entered our Freshman Year of High School, all scared and excited. We were excited about changing classes. Having three different teachers, and it was much more exciting for us. We went through that year without too many disappointments. Miss Dorothy Kanoy was our home-room teacher, and taught us Biology and Home-Ec. Mrs. O. Z. Gentry taught us our English, and Mr. G. N. Titus helped us learn our Math. At the end of the year, Inez Harrison decided she had better get married and leave us to keep the school rolling by ourselves. Carlton Whitt and Hassell Rimmer also decided they didn't need to stay with us, so they went to work.

Our Sophomore Year was very much like that of our Freshman year. We weren't so excited this year. Mr. A. L. Hendren was our home-room teacher. He taught us Algebra, Miss Sara Rice taught us Science and Home-Ec., Mrs. Gentry helped us with our English again. Katy Sue Crabtree left us this year and got married soon after. Our new cafeteria was completed soon after Christmas. This was one of the highlights for this year All ran smoothly until our Junior Year.

Our Junior Year was very complicated. Patricia Monk left us for Aycock and Mary Lee Whitfield went to Roxboro. Donald Lee Davis and Jeanette Bradsher came to take their places. We were together for only two weeks. Our High School decided to go to Helena. Donald went to Aycock. We were all glad to order our class rings even if we were not in the same class any more. We also enjoyed getting up our Junior Plays. We were very much thrilled over our Junior-Senior Banquets, with everything so lovely and just as we had planned.

Our Senior Year was almost as complicated. Patricia came back to be with her class after a year of fun and work. Edgar Long joined us from New Port News, Virginia. Lucy Ellen McCullock came back as Post Graduates, so we claimed her to be our Senior Classmate. Edgar Long and Billy Rimmer decided Uncle Sam needed them more than we did, so they joined up to be with their Uncle. Wilma Slaughter left us and got "hitched". Our home-room teacher was Mrs. Vera C. Dawes who continued to help us improve our English. Mr. Hendren taught us Economics and Geometry, Mr. Harry Jenkins taught us Typing, shorthand and bookkeeping.

Now we are looking forward to our Junior-Senior Banquet, and also a trip to Washington.

Now, here we are only ten survivals of our four years of High School. We had quite a few parties and wiener roasts all of which were loads of fun.

Now that our good old days at HURDLE MILLS are over we wish to say thanks to our Parents, Teachers, and Everyone, who made our school life of fun and work so enjoyable and full of meaning.

Class Prophecy

As I gaze into my crystal ball,
I see an archway in a hall,
And coming through, one at a time,
I see all the ol' classmates of mine.

The first to come through was Miss Luna Mae Harrison, who after serving in the Waves for three years has decided to settle down and teach history at Bethel Hill High School.

Next I see Miss Norma Jean Breeze. Norma Jean, how do you like your job, calling sets at the square dances they're giving at Pinehurst?

Come now Jeanette, are all nine of those really yours? And who's the lucky father? I kind of thought Mrs. Dawes had talked you into going to college.

And who is this kindly old nun we see that is doing so much good? Christeen! You've really surprised us. What happened to John Hugh and E. B.?

Say who is that fat man in the carnival, why Dewey, I thought you wanted to drive trucks. Oh! You couldn't get into them, I see, well I always told you that you shouldn't eat so much.

Clara, see anybody there that looks like P. G.? Clara Mae after failing to get her man, is now a missionary in Africa.

Edgar and Martha say married life is just fine. They now own and operate the Bilmore Hotel in Asheville. Say, Edgar, how much did it cost?

I see we have another Charlie Justice, didn't think Billy would go to college. Say, Billy how do you get those grades?

So Patricia finally reached her goal. How do you like being a Surgical Doctor? By the way, Patricia has a column in the "News and Observer", "Advice to the Lovelorn." Keep up the good work, Pat.

I see Joyce finally got into the Jones family, not saying which. Aside from raising a family, Joyce is a working woman. She is keeping books for the D. L. Moore Dairy Farms.

Well, just take a look at who owns and operates one of the largest cafeterias in the South. Barbara Ann, quit eating up the profit.

And Lucy, the only one that stayed at Camp Butler--crazy, but she always was. Just kidding, Lucy is the Boss Woman there.

Good luck, Dewey and all that nuss. Have enjoyed our school days together and I hope you will get along in life as well as you did in school.

Dearest,

It has been swell knowing and associating with a person like you for the past twelve years. I admire you for staying with us girls for so long. I know it has been hard looking at our faces, but we are glad that you toughed it out. I also admire you for your ability to get along with people — your pleasing personality — and your friendly attitude toward your classmates and friends.

Here's hoping that in the future you will always make the right decisions as you have in thy past. And that your life will be double-rich with happiness.

The best of luck always,

Joyce Berry

I live with my family
at least that's what I say but if I could live alone with you I would like it better that way.

Love Always,
Frances
